

The "Costa degli Dei" is the name with which a stretch of coast that is part of the southern Tyrrhenian was born, falling entirely within the province of Vibo Valentia. It is the part of the coast that borders the so-called horn of Calabria, a stretch of coast that is about 55 km of beautiful coastline, unique to Italy. Unique for the type of coast: it ranges from the long and wide white beaches with campsites, residences, equipped villages, to the jagged and wild ones with the possibility of scuba diving in the depths rich in marine fauna. It is also called La Costa Bella for the spectacular views of the Aeolian Islands which are only 32 nautical miles away.

CAPO VATICANO: in seven kilometers of crystal clear waters that are tinged with all shades of colors ranging from turquoise to deep blue and light blue, panoramas of indescribable beauty follow one another. It is a succession of coves with sandy and crystalline bottoms, cut out between rocky spurs, smooth tuff cliffs and pointed granite cliffs overlooking the sea, with gorges and caves that can only be reached by boats of expert fishermen.

SANTA DOMENICA: An elegant village just 3 km from Tropea, Santa Domenica di Ricadi is included in the coast of Capo Vaticano with the beaches of Baia di Riaci, Formicoli, Torre Marino, Torre Ruffa and Grotticelle. The most famous is certainly Baia di Raci, characterized by the presence of a majestic rock, an ideal place for scuba diving. Another place to visit is the ancient village located on a hill, at the top of which stands the church dedicated to Santa Domenica.

TROPEA: It rises in the center of the famous "Costa degli Dei" on the Tyrrhenian side of Calabria. It offers unique sunsets on the archipelago of the Aeolian Islands. The symbol of excellence of Tropea is the Church of Santa Maria dell'Isola which stands on a beautiful islet that is recognized as the symbol of Tropea to the world. The natural scenery expresses all the beauty of the Mediterranean environment. Between narrow streets and sudden squares, the historic center offers a succession of suggestive glimpses and views of the houses overlooking the cliff and the seas majestic colours .

PARGHELIA: Parghelia is a tourist village on the Costa degli Dei located 80 meters above sea level. It is known for its coast and beaches, such as the Pizzuta cliff, in which the Palombaro rock stands out and the famous "Michelino beach".
